Clinical Training Director

UCLA is California's largest university and a model for public institutions of higher education with a tradition of advancing higher education and the common good through excellence in scholarship, research and public service.

Under the general direction of the Executive Director, the Clinical Training Director supports the mission of Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) and the University in providing the highest quality mental health services for the UCLA student body. The Clinical Training Director participates in the management and leadership of the Department's operations, including implementing and management of the APA accredited doctoral internship in psychology, the postdoctoral psychology fellowship program, the psychology graduate practicum program, the clinical social work internship, and the psychiatry residency training program. The Clinical Training Director is responsible for the training curriculum and all programming related the training program, and is responsible for training program organization memberships and accreditation related to APA, APPIC, and ACCTA. This person also performs a wide range of other tasks including counseling and psychotherapy with students, prevention, outreach and consultation to the campus, crisis intervention and postvention services, and supervision of designated staff and departmental trainees. The Clinical Training Director is a member of the Executive Leadership Team, chairs the Training Committee, and participates in meetings and committees. This person carries out necessary charting and data requirements. The Training Director acts on behalf of the Director and serves as acting director when delegated.

Required:

- Possession of a doctorate in clinical or counseling psychology from an APA accredited institution.
- Completion of an internship in psychology from an APA approved program.
- License to practice psychology in California, or license eligible.
- Minimum of 1 year administrative experience.
- Working knowledge of APA requirements for doctoral internship training.
- Demonstrated competency in administrative supervision and management.
- Knowledge of developmental issues and problems typical of college age students.
- Demonstrated ability to work in an interdisciplinary environment.
- Demonstrated competency in providing crisis intervention and planned short term therapy.
- Demonstrated proficiency in psychological assessment, efficient production of assessment reports and ability to teach psychological assessment.
- Demonstrated ability to provide training in multiculturally competent evidence-based psychotherapeutic practices.
- Working knowledge of ethical, legal, and clinical issues and standards of psychotherapeutic practice.
- Demonstrated skill in preparing and writing professional and technical reports.
- Demonstrated competency in providing clinical supervision

- Demonstrated competency in providing supervision of clinical supervision
- Basic knowledge of personal computer use (e.g. Word, Windows).

Preferred:

- Possession of ABPP in counseling or clinical psychology.
- Minimum of 5 years in a university mental health or counseling program.
- Minimum of 1 year experience directing an APA accredited doctoral internship program.
- Demonstrated ability to provide empirically supported treatments, including cognitive behavioral therapy.

Benefits

UCLA offers a comprehensive benefits package, including an average of three weeks' vacation per year; an average of 12 days per year sick leave; 12 paid holidays per year; health, dental and optical benefits; life insurance; disability insurance; the University of California Retirement Plan with 5 year vesting and various voluntary UC Savings Plans. There are also special programs and privileges available, such as accessibility to cultural and recreational programs, athletic events, and the University Credit Union.
The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

UCLA is a Tobacco-Free environment.

To Apply

To be considered for this position, please apply directly on UCLA's career site, requisition 27560:
http://hr.mycareer.ucla.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=72704
Applications must be submitted by April 10, 2018.